MUMBAI, June 1

THE All-India Liquid Bulk Importers & Exporters Association (AILBIEA) celebrated its anniversary at Hotel Trident in Mumbai on May 29.

 It was a grand success, with host of top dignitaries gracing the professionally conducted event. Mr G. Chandrashekar, Advisor to the Association, set the ball rolling with a lucid presentation on the liquid bulk scenario and, in particular, the "Make in India" campaign. He kept the dignitaries and the audience engrossed in his analytical forecasts.

Mr Jayyant Lapsiaa, President of AILBIEA, welcomed the gathering and stressed home the point of creating a separate Ministry for Exim Trade, which would be a combination of Commerce, Finance, Shipping, Agriculture, Health and other agencies, to provide a level playing field to all the ex-im players and to root out red tapism, corruption, mindboggling delays, and drastically reducing the transaction costs.

Chandrashekar, Advisor to AILBIEA, look on regaled the dignitaries and the audience with his impacting poem, written by him especially for the occasion. Mr Ramesh Krishnamurthy, Director Procurement Operations-South Asia, Hindustan Unilever and Mr Raj Chandaria, Managing Director of Aegis Logistics, hailed AILBIEA's significant role in taking up issues of the trade and also playing an effective catalytic role between the trade and the governmental departments.

The occasion also saw the AILBIEA Stellar Awards 2015 being presented to Godrej Industries, Hindustan Unilever, Aegis Logistics, Jubilant Life Sciences and Kandla Port Trust, among others, for their noteworthy performance and for promoting ex-im trade.

The Brihanmumbai Custom House Agents' Association (BCHAA) was felicitated for completing its Platinum Jubilee.

AILBIEA Committee Members also felicitated Mr Jayyant Lapsiaa.
